By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Through-out a tense day, the reichswehr resisted temptation to seize national power in Germany and tonight the crisis was believed past with Dictator Otto Gessler firmly entrenched.

A nationalist uprising took place at Kuestrin, fifty miles away, but government troops quickly suppressed it and captured Kuestrin fortress which the nationalists had seized overnight.

Retake Fortress
After their capture the nationalists hoisted their flag over the citadel. When day dawned and the nationalist banner was seen, Dictator Gessler gave orders to retake the fortress at once.

Reichswehr made a storm attack and dislodged the nationalists without difficulty. The military censorship has been imposed by Dictator Gessler over all news dispatches.

Jesse E. Smith 'Stung' by Check in Sale of Car

THE district attorney's office has issued a warrant for the arrest of a man giving the name of Charles Hayes, 925 East Park avenue, Glendale, who is wanted on a charge of having paid for a Ford four-door sedan, sold by Jesse E. Smith Co., 115-125 West Colorado street, Ford dealers, with a check that was returned by the bank on which it was drawn, with the notation that no such account was carried.

Hayes, who is described as being a man of about 45 years of age, with a small scrubby mustache, and looking like a farmer or mechanic, bought the car and hung around the showroom while some accessories were being added to it, when he paid for it with a check amounting to $848.40. Before discovery that the check was bogus, Hayes had a nine-day start on the pursuit that has been launched.

A reward of $100 has been offered for information regarding Hayes or the car, which, when it left the shop, carried only a blue ticket issued pending the receipt of the license plates.

PEACE PLEA BY BALDWIN TO ALLIES

British Premier Opening Imperial Conference Asks Cooperation

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, Oct. 1.—In a speech opening the British imperial conference today, Premier Stanley Baldwin pleaded for closer co-operation with the allies.

"We are entering a new phase of the reparations situation," said the premier. "How it will develop, I will not venture to predict, but it is only through closest co-operation with the allies we can hope for a settlement."

Prevented Rupture
"We have strained every nerve to preserve the solidarity of the allies. I am aware that our patience has left us open to the charge of indecision and weakness, but not so. We followed our policy believing that a rupture might postpone the peace which Europe sorely needs."

Newspapers, commenting upon the conference, urged the premier to give the most serious consideration to unemployment, calling this the greatest menace before the country today.

Premier Baldwin said he was satisfied with the action taken by the League of Nations in the Japana incident. He said the presence of the league averted a resort to arms.

Referring to debt funding in the United States, he said: "Debt of great nations must be recognized if the foundations of commercial progress are to stand."

Accompanied by Senator Samuel Shortridge and Congressman Walter Lindeberger, a number of state, county and associated chamber of commerce officials visited the east and west forks of the canyon Saturday and Sunday.

AID RUSHES TO BURNING FREIGHTER

Diana Dollar in Distress Is Radio Report; Carries Crew of 60 Men

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—With her crew of sixty men reported fighting for their lives against a fire in the hold of their ship, the freighter Diana Dollar, of the Robert Dollar line, was reported in distress early today off the Mexican coast at a point near Manzanillo.

The United States shipping board vessel President Hayes and the Dutch motorship Drecht Dyke of the Holland-American line are rushing to the stricken ship's aid, according to reports received by the Radio Corporation of America.

The Diana Dollar, under Captain Anderson, is reported en route from New York to Los Angeles with a heavy cargo, and carried a crew of between fifty-five and sixty men. First reports that the ship was in distress, came at 3 a. m., when Captain Anderson asked help. A later message at 4:37 a. m. stated the fire was practically under control and that the President Hayes and Drecht Dyke were each within a radius of approximately 100 miles from the Diana Dollar. No cause of the fire was given.

Static Cripples Radio
Efforts of the Radio Corporation of America to communicate with the stricken ship or the rescue ships later proved unavailing because of static conditions, it was reported. However, an attempt was made to secure information by relay from ships between Los Angeles harbor and the Drecht Dyke, which was reported 150 miles north of the Diana Dollar early today.

WALTON'S CREWS CLEARED FROM COURTHOUSE AS ELECTION BATTLE LOOMS

'Shooting In Two Minutes' Threatened by Sheriff at Capital City; Ballot Boxes Are Peddled to Precincts

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 1.—Clashes of gunmen were narrowly averted here this afternoon when Governor J. C. ("Iron Jack") Walton's "minute men" invaded the county court house and demanded the ballot boxes.

Sheriff Tom Cavnar met the special state police with twenty-seven armed special deputies and ordered the "minute men" from the building.

"If you don't get out of here," said Sheriff Cavnar, "there'll be shooting in two minutes."

There was a slight pause and then the "minute men" turned and left the building without the ballot boxes.

Orders to arrest any who attempt to interfere with tomorrow's election were issued today by the state election board. Sheriffs and county attorneys throughout the state were being impressed with the seriousness of such interference, and directed to enforce the election law to the letter, regardless of violators' official status. Interference with an election is said to carry a penalty of five years' imprisonment.

Dismisses Election Officials
Summary dismissal by Governor Walton of the two appointive members of the Oklahoma state election board—Ira Mitchell, Democrat, and Claude Backer, Republican—was reported from authentic channels today.

Official notification of such action had not been received at the board's office in the capitol this afternoon, although officials placed credence in the report and said they were expecting notice.

The governor had appointed two men friendly to him to fill the vacancies, it was reported.

The election board of three members have been proceeding with its duties bearing on tomorrow's special election, which has been called off by the edict of the governor.

Thousand Deputy Sheriffs Appointed at Tulsa

TULSA, Oct. 1.—The ballot boxes and other election paraphernalia were taken from the vaults in the basement of the court house shortly after 1 o'clock today and distributed to the precinct election office. This was accomplished under the leadership of Sheriff Bob Sanford without resistance on the part of the governor's deputies who had been standing before the door.

"Your attention, please," commanded the sheriff, as he reached the bottom of the stairs. "We are about to undertake to distribute the ballot boxes to the regularly appointed election officials to be in turn distributed to the various voting places as required by law. In order to expedite this work, I request that this basement and lobby be cleared."

A force of deputies and city policemen immediately dispersed the crowd, the Walton special officers going along with the crowd. Sheriff Sanford up to the minute when he went to the basement had been issuing commissions to new deputies. "By night I will have 1000," he said.

Judge A. C. Hunt in district court here today issued an order restraining the militia, special agents of Governor J. C. Walton or anyone else from interfering in any way with the holding of the election tomorrow.

LAKEHURST, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The giant naval dirigible, ZR-1, took the air here at 6:59 o'clock this morning, for St. Louis, where she will participate in the international air races this week.

STATE-WIDE VIOLENCE LOOMS

Fear of Bloodshed Comes From Governor's Lips as Crisis Nears

By JAS. L. KILGALLEN
For International News Service

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 1.—The spectre of state-wide civil violence hovered ominously over turbulent Oklahoma today.

Governor J. C. Walton's startling announcement that he will use 22,000 armed "minute men"—his private police force—to put down any attempt to hold a special election tomorrow, has precipitated the gravest crisis Oklahoma has faced since it was admitted to statehood in 1907.

Preachers Are Active
From all parts of the state today came reports of feverish activities on the part of an aroused electorate. Last minute preparations for the election were being rushed by county election boards. Pastors of churches had heralded the issue of the hour from the pulpits. Party organizations and commercial clubs jumped into the fight. Mass meetings were being held and other public meetings arranged. The state was aflame with passion.

"There may be bloodshed," was the statement of the governor himself, as he commanded every county sheriff in the state to refuse to allow the polls to open. He declared the issue is clear-cut—"Shall the Ku Klux Klan rule Oklahoma, or will Oklahoma rule the K. K. K.?"

"One-man rule is over," Representative W. D. McBe, leader of the election movement, asserted today. "Governor Walton will find out he cannot deny a free people the right of suffrage. Tomorrow we will restore a democratic form of government in Oklahoma."

Follows No Precedent
Attorney General George F. Short, the highest legal authority in the state, announced that the election tomorrow is legal, notwithstanding the governor's proclamation calling it off.

"There is no precedent for the governor's action," he declared. "No power, civil or military, shall ever interfere to prevent the free exercise of the right of suffrage. This constitutional guarantee may not be overridden or denied by any man, official or otherwise."

Crisis at Hand
The governor announced his drastic policy to prevent the election, "at all costs," in an interview with the executive mansion with the little group of remaining "war correspondents." His characteristic joviality was conspicuously absent. He spoke in low, measured voice. There was a gravity about his manner that in (Continued on page 5)

Parable Forms Theme Of Pastor's Discourse

"Tares Among the Wheat" was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the Concordia Lutheran church.

"In the parable of our Gospel," remarked Rev. Henry O. Kring, "the Lord Jesus illustrates the kingdom of heaven. He means to portray the state and condition of His church here upon earth.

"Christ himself explains the parable: 'He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; the field is the world; the good seed are the children of the Kingdom; the tares are the children of the wicked one; the enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world, and the reapers are the angels.'

"So, in the light of Christ's own interpretation, the world appears as a vast field. Upon this field Jesus sows the good seed of His divine Word. That seed is not cast out in vain. Children of God are produced, true Christians.

"Meanwhile, the devil also sows his pernicious seed in between, which produces ungodliness and children of wickedness. These are intermingled with true Christians like the tares among the wheat."

Hold First Service In New Church Site

The first service on its new site at 233 South Kenwood street was held yesterday morning by the First Lutheran church.

"Today we are entering a new field, a new location," commented Dr. H. C. Funk. "What does this mean? It means that God is opening for us the door of opportunity. Will we be slackers or will we grasp the opportunity? Get busy, pull together, work hard, and success is assured, for God is able to do all things. With His help we can do anything we want to do that is reasonable.

"We must learn to live in a personal relationship with God. In working for Him, if you are a carpenter, you ought to drive every nail for God; if you are a shoemaker, please Him every pair of shoes to please Him.

"We have this day entered upon a new place, which, with God's help, we are going to possess, and with divine aid we will build for Him a temple that shall glorify His great and holy name."

Rev. Cowan Supplies Casa Verdugo Pulpit

Rev. William G. Cowan of Glendale delivered the sermon at the Sunday morning service at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. C. Livingston, who is attending the southern California conference in Los Angeles.

Taking as his text "For Me to Live Is Christ, to Die Is Gain," the speaker wove the threads of his sermon around the life of Paul, the Apostle, from whose writings the words were taken.

The choir rendered an anthem, "I Will Feed My Flock," with bass solo parts sung by Messrs. Ed Durrent and B. F. Drake. Mrs. John W. Cotton sang a contralto solo, "Rock of Ages."

There was no evening service.

LA CRESCENTA CLUBWOMEN PLAN FOR SOCIAL MEET

Program for Next Year's Work Will Be Considered at Social Affair

The La Crescenta Women's club will hold the first meeting of the year on Wednesday afternoon, October 10, in the La Crescenta school house. This meeting will be a social affair to promote a feeling of good fellowship.

Musical numbers will be given, and tea and refreshments are to be served. All interested ladies residing in Montrose and La Crescenta are cordially invited to be present.

This year's work is expected to include programs of various kinds and action will be taken towards the building of the club house on the Los Angeles avenue property of the club.

Mrs. C. A. Haskins is to preside for the year. All members are invited to bring their friends for the social meeting on October 10.

Improvement Meeting
The La Crescenta Improvement association will meet on Thursday evening of this week at the La Crescenta schoolhouse. Many items of importance to the valley will be presented. All newcomers to the valley are invited to be present.

Mrs. Hickey reports the sale of two houses and two lots this week. The gains are laid on Honolulu almost as far as Los Angeles at a great rate, and the gas company's promise to the school board, that they will have gas heat for the winter, will be fulfilled.

The Boy Scout Roundup was a splendid success, carloads of scouts and friends arriving at Los Robles rancho before the appointed hour, and all report having had a jolly good time.

Helps to Fight Fire
Fire Chief Young spent several hours at the Plinridge fire on Saturday, leaving here when the fire broke out, with the fire wagons and chemicals. Mr. Young returned toward evening, when the fire was considered subdued.

The proceeds from the food sale held at Mrs. Wooley's were $28. This is not, however, the full amount, as many of the ladies of the Service league sold food in their own neighborhood. This sale was held to raise funds to fulfill the $1000 pledge members of the Service league made to the Community church building fund.

CARL GRAY ASKS MOTORISTS STOP

President of Union Pacific in Interview on Railroad Crossing Crashes

OMAHA, Oct. 1.—"He who hesitates at grade crossings is safe," says President Carl R. Gray of the Union Pacific system, in his monthly talk for October. To hesitate means to pause before acting. Failure to do so has caused the deaths of 9,101 persons in the last five years, which Mr. Gray reminds one is almost twice the number killed in the Battle of Gettysburg.

Why is travel by automobile unsafe? Mr. Gray gives two reasons. Except in a few states automobile drivers are not examined before being licensed and in not more than one case out of five does the driver stop and look in either direction at grade crossings.

Something must be done at once to stop this costly sacrifice of human life. Eliminating all grade crossings is not the remedy, according to Mr. Gray, who points out that there are 250,000 such crossings in the United States and at an average of $50,000 it would cost $12,500,000 to remove them, and at least thirty years would be required to do the work.

Unnerves Engineers
Two features of the grade crossing accident question need emphasizing. When a motorist races with a train and scots over the crossing just in front of it, or if he stops, but gives the engineer no evidence that he intends to do so, the engineer suffers a severe nervous shock which frequently unnerves him.

Nor are the occupants of the automobiles the only ones whose lives are imperiled by grade crossing accidents. Recently several trains on eastern roads have been derailed by colliding with motor vehicles and engineers and passengers have been killed.

The railroads carry on nationwide "Cross Crossings Carefully" campaigns. They maintain warning signs. They require engineers to sound the whistle and the bell at every grade crossing. They provide crossing bells, watchmen and gates, and they insist that only right that motorists should do their part by stopping to look in both directions and listen before attempting to cross. If every motorist would take the pledge to do that, crossing accidents and not human lives, would be wiped out.

Leases Entire Floor for Health Studios
Dr. John J. Otey, director of the Dr. Otey Health Studios, at 702 East Broadway, has leased the entire second floor of the Logan building at Grand Boulevard and Wilson street, where he will carry on his work.

The rooms for Osteopathic treatment are fitted up with the latest McManis tables, which are said to be marvels of mechanical ingenuity. Dr. Otey, who graduated under the personal supervision of Dr. Still, the founder of osteopathy, at Kirksville, Mo., has had eighteen years of experience in his profession, and has kept abreast of its advances at all times, and the growth of his practice since he established himself in Glendale bears eloquent testimony to the faith that his patients have in his work.

In the department devoted to diagnosis and treatment by the Abrams method, the genuine Abrams equipment is used, and this work is under the personal supervision of Dr. W. Bruce Lynd and Dr. R. Richard Lynd.

The spacious reception room will be used for lectures and clinical demonstrations that will be open to the public one night weekly.

Commander Ignores Orders, Saves Ship
NORTH ISLAND, SAN DIEGO, Oct. 1.—Disobeying instructions of his squadron flagship which would have sent him to the left and almost upon the rocks, Commander W. P. Gaddis of the Somers steered his ship out of formation and to the clear sea at the right, thereby escaping with holes in her hull, after caroming three times from as many rocks, he testified before the court of naval inquiry today.

Lieutenant-Commander Richard K. Booth, captain of the Chancey, which was a total loss, will take the stand this afternoon. It was said. He will be the last of the thirteen defendant officers to testify, and will be followed by radio operators from the various ships and by an expert in navigation who has been checking the charts and sailing logs salvaged from the seven wrecked warships on Honda Head.

The hearing is expected to end tomorrow. No announcement of the court's findings or recommendations will be made public here. Full reports will be forwarded to Washington and will likely be made public by Secretary Denby several weeks hence, it was said.

Children Invited to Attend Meetings

Glendale kiddies of all ages are invited to join with the children of the Gospel Tabernacle at the corner of South Louise and Chestnut streets at 4 o'clock every afternoon this week in a series of interesting meetings directed by Miss Hattie Schaffer, specialist in children's work.

Miss Schaffer has called the series of meetings "How to Get from Earth to Heaven" and she has announced that her subjects will be: Monday, "The God of the Children"; Tuesday, "Sin and How to Escape Its Power"; Wednesday, "The Saviour Who Loved the Children"; Thursday, "Christians and How to Become One"; Friday, "Soldiers of Christ, or A Child's Power with God"; Saturday, "Everybody in His Place in the Army of the Lord Jesus Christ on Our Way to Heaven."

Miss Schaffer, who has served as deaconess and home missionary of the Gospel Tabernacle for two years, has won wide recognition for her successful work with the children and is now planning on entering children's evangelistic work.

SERVICE BUREAU FINDS POSITIONS

Oxy Students Are Assisted in Finding Employment to Pay Expenses

By LARRY RAYMOND
Written for The Evening News
An employment bureau is being conducted at Occidental college for the benefit of the students who are seeking work in order to pay their way through school. Many of the Oxy students are dependent upon employment after school or early in the morning to make ends meet. Self-help is not frowned on in Occidental, and every encouragement is offered to those students who have the sincerity of purpose to work their way.

It is to meet the needs of the deserving students that Occidental maintains the student employment service, which acts as a clearing house between employer and student. Prospective employers are reached by advertising, and by personal solicitation, and the service aims to keep up the standard of wages by encouraging the student to do satisfactory work. Jerome Lindquist is in charge of the work.

All employers who are in need of help from time to time are urged to communicate with this employment bureau by mail or phone. Both temporary and steady work is desired.

Singers Get Tryout
The preliminary tryouts for the Men's Glee Club of Occidental college have just been held and a large number of vocal experts demonstrated their ability to fill the numerous vacancies made by graduation last year.

Carl Lindquist is president of the glee club this year and is very enthusiastic about the prospects. Everything points toward a very successful season.

The manager, Robert Taylor, announced that the schedule of concerts to be presented is much longer than in any former year. A two weeks' northern tour is planned for the early spring, going up the valley route to San Francisco and returning via the coast route, taking in all the important towns.

There has also been some talk of an eastern trip next summer, but as yet it is undecided.

Star Hurdler Back
Coach Phipps of Oxy is rejoicing today over the return of Cyril Wall, star hurdler of the frosh track team last year. Cy Wall is a very valuable asset to the Tiger squad this year and when he did not register the first of the semester fear was felt by the coach that he would not return.

Wall is one of the best prep hurdlers in the state and won additional fame on the frosh team. He has any other Oxy varsity hurdler's time cut short and is proficient in both the low sticks and high two-by-fours.

Another one of the late arrivals at the Tiger college is Nick Curtis, crack miler on the conference championship Oxy track team.

President Dexter of Whittier college was the guest of Occidental college last Friday morning. He gave a short, snappy talk before the student body expressing the deep friendship that Whittier college students have for the Oxy institution. President Dexter suggested the motto "give sympathy, render service and feel secure" as one which will aid the students throughout life.

Visiting Pastors Address Methodists

Methodists of Glendale yesterday had the privilege of hearing sermons by six visiting preachers owing to the fact that the annual conference of the Methodist church of Southern California is now in session in Los Angeles.

The First Methodist church had its pulpit occupied in the morning by Dr. Frank Mason North, and in the evening by Dr. Hadden, an evangelist.

The Central Avenue Methodist church had as its visiting pastor last night, Rev. A. A. Burge of Coram.

The Pacific Avenue Methodist church had its morning sermon by Dr. E. A. Palmer of Banning and its evening service in charge of Dr. H. J. Harstell of Los Angeles, formerly pastor of this church.

The Casa Verdugo Methodist church was addressed yesterday morning by Rev. W. G. Cowan of 469 Milford street, retired minister.

AIRSHIP HEADS WEST

EBENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 1.—The ZR-1 passed over here at 2:15 Eastern time.

BAPTIST SUBJECT

"Diet and Dust" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. E. E. Ford last night at the First Baptist church.

Dismissal of the entire case.

In denying this motion, the court ruled, however, that the prosecution had failed to produce sufficient evidence to hold Major Cook further on the charges, that:

1.—Private Guy Pendleton, legless complaining witness, had been subjected to extreme administration of narcotic drugs.

2.—That Major Cook had failed to diagnose a fracture in Pendleton's lower right leg, and 3.—That Major Cook had failed to treat this fracture.

Lofty Ideals Needed In Nation's Rulers

"The history of tomorrow is being made by the training that the children and young people of today are receiving."

This truism was expounded by Rev. C. M. Calderwood yesterday morning in his sermon at the First Congregational church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cavanah of 130 North Orange street sang as a duet Solly's "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

"A Golden Age," continued Rev. Calderwood, "will come only when the preceding age has been trained properly in lofty ideals. The sway of Christianity in the coming age will be made possible only by the Christian training of the youth of today.

This is the day of democracy. Our ideal is that the nation shall be ruled by the people. But what kind of rulers will our nation then have? We have a chance today to educate the rulers of tomorrow."

"There are in United States over 58,000,000 people, nominally Protestant, who are not identified with any church. There are 27,000,000 American youths, nominally Protestant, who are not enrolled in any church school and who receive no formal or systematic religious instruction. There are 8,600,000 American children under ten years of age growing up in non-church homes.

"In view of these facts, what can we expect of democracy? Nero fiddled while Rome burned and we are fiddling while democracy and civilization are being threatened."

Meeting Will Organize for Community Chest
Notices have been mailed today to the officials of the various local organizations asking that they send their representatives to the meeting that is to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Thursday night, October 4, at 7:30 o'clock, to form the permanent organization for Community Chest in Glendale. The outline of organization last week and was approved, so that Thursday night's meeting is expected to see the definite launching of the plans for Community Chest in Glendale.

W. E. Hewitt, chairman of the temporary organization, asks that every organization in the city be represented at the meeting.

Whether an invitation is received or not, as it is possible that the names of some of them may have been omitted from the mailing lists.

Of course when you want to buy merchandise of any kind you are anxious to patronize a Glendale dealer. When you wish to employ professional skill it is your desire to secure a local man. When repair work is needed it is to your advantage to have the work done by mechanics near home.

The object of this index column is to refer you to the Glendale Loyalty Page on page 4 of this issue where you will find listed a large number of merchants, tradesmen and professional men who are real boosters for Glendale. While the Community Loyalty Page will appear in The Evening News one day every week, yet readers are advised to cut it out and hold it for reference for the purpose of ascertaining names and locations of business firms in Glendale.

Rabbi Magnin Speaks on World's Problems

Rabbi Edgar P. Magnin of B'Nai B'rith temple, Los Angeles, was the speaker last night at the First Congregational church.

Organ numbers by Miss Lilla E. Litch of 424 North Louise street included a prelude by Bassi and "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" by Dunham as the postlude.

A duet was sung by Myron Cavanah of 363 Salem street and H. E. Cavanah, director of music at this church. J. A. Myers of 310 West Lexington drive sang "Fear Not Ye, O Israel" by Buel as a tenor solo. The choir loft was filled with members of the men's chorus.

"The World and Its Need" was the subject of the sermon. Rabbi Magnin denounced the indifference of the public in general toward the big world problems. He called attention to the fact that toleration is necessary toward each other in the little things in order to work out the big problems. He emphasized the importance of education. He expressed his opinion that people are only half educated to the needs of the world. He stated that the World War has set civilization back a century.

Some locusts appear every seventeen years and others every thirteen years.

Business Man Has Peculiar Part to Play in Community Development

Community Development is a big question today, one that is being considered by cities and villages all over the country. Like most big things it is made up of the Community Loyalty and the Community Pride of its citizens and it is in direct ratio to the quality of this loyalty and pride.

The business and professional men in any city have a special and peculiar part in any movement for Community Development. If a city has no first-class stores and its professional men and women are not highly skilled it is difficult to win prestige among other cities. So the business and professional people must always be to the fore in any movement for Community Development.

It is easy for Mr. Average Citizen to advocate and practice Community Loyalty, for that is all he has to do—be loyal and do the things that loyalty implies. But the merchant must set his own house in order before he begins to ask for co-operation. He has to make his business attractive from every standpoint; he has to have a metropolitan store before he can ask the citizen to build a metropolis and give him a metropolitan trade.

Glendale is fortunate in having business men and women who see clearly their duty to their patrons and their prospective patrons; men and women who do not shirk their own task. The firms represented on this page have pledged their efforts in Community Building and now they do not hesitate to ask every citizen to take the same pledge.

Community Building is a big movement but one easy of accomplishment when each one does his part. There is no better way to aid Community Growth and bring about a Greater Glendale than keeping our money at home.

Crowds Throng Robison Ranch to Witness Program of Verdugo Boys

The roundup that was staged by the Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills council at Los Robles Verdes, the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Robison at La Crescenta Saturday afternoon and evening, was pronounced an unqualified success by the Scouts and the many guests who attended the affair.

The roundup was in charge of a committee from the Troop Leaders' Roundtable, headed by H. B. Robison, chairman; W. L. Walker, Hal E. Leedom and A. C. Cox.

A big "Capture the Flag" game was played in the early part of the afternoon in which all the Scouts participated. Challenging contests were next in order and everyone enjoyed the Indian wrestling, horse and rider contest, hog-tie contest, rooster fight and the tug-o-war. Everybody brought a picnic dinner, and through the efforts of Mr. Leedom and Mr. Cox, everyone was served a fine hot cup of either cocoa or coffee. Mrs. Cox helped also in a very efficient way.

Campfire Lighted
A campfire was lighted at 7 o'clock and soon it was surrounded by the crowd. R. Ernest Tucker, secretary of Glendale Community Service, led in the singing of some lively songs which was preceded by a scout leaders' quartet. H. B. Robison welcomed the scouts and other guests on behalf of his parents and A. R. Eastman, president of the Verdugo Hills Scout council, welcomed them on behalf of that body. Representatives from the Exchange club, Glendale Music club, Glendale Welfare council, American Red Cross, Shrine club, Rotary club and Tuesday Afternoon club spoke briefly a warm word of good cheer to the scouts.

Roy L. Kent told of the National Council meeting which he attended at the Palisades Interstate park, New York, and how he had visited a camp which accommodated more than 2500 scouts.

The Scout Oath and the Great Scoutmaster's Prayers were said together, and then all was silent as the beautiful notes of the bagpipes playing taps died away over the Verdugos. The keynote of the whole roundup was co-operation, action and good fellowship. The scout spirit reigned supreme.

Mary Grace Egley to Be at Keller School

An added attraction at the Keller school at 140-A North Brand boulevard, is the announcement that fall classes in ballroom dancing will be under the direction of Mary Grace Egley, formerly of the Rutherford school of Los Angeles. Previous to that time Mrs. Egley was associated with prominent schools, among them being the Cotillion Dancing Academy in Portland.

In addition, she is a member of the American National Association of Dancing, with representatives in several foreign countries.

Mrs. Egley says "The old-time dances are coming back into favor and the slow beautiful waltz has once more taken its proper place. The trend is for more speed in the Fox Trot, thereby eliminating the slow draggy objectionable steps."

All the newest and latest dances will be taught.

Dr. F. M. Rossiter in Path of Cloudbursts

Dr. F. M. Rossiter of 130 North Belmont street returned Saturday afternoon from a trip to Chicago, where he spent ten days investigating new treatment for various chronic diseases.

The cyclone, which whirled past Sedgwick, Kansas, Wednesday, barely missed the Santa Fe train upon which Dr. Rossiter was a home-bound passenger. It uprooted trees, upset houses, and raised havoc in general. Altogether the train was delayed four hours. During a part of this time a terrific thunder storm shook the atmosphere and the ear-drums of everyone within a radius of miles. In the cloudburst, which followed, streams were forced over their banks and the right-of-way for considerable distance was flooded.

300 Seeking Bodies in Wyoming Train Wreck

ing's most disastrous railroad wreck continued to range from twenty-five to fifty, but it is now feared that most of the bodies have been swept down the waters of the Platte river, and many may never be recovered. A score of men are patrolling the banks of that river for a distance of 25 miles on the lookout for bodies from the wreckage.

Two Bodies Washed Ashore
In addition to the three bodies recovered from the actual wreckage, two unidentified bodies have been reported washed ashore near Glen rock, and W. E. Schult died after being rescued from the wreckage.

The locomotive has been retrieved from its grave of adobe mud on the east bank of Cole creek; searchers have reached the Pullman, chair car and combination baggage car, but the three bodies recovered Saturday are the only victims to be removed.

A second attempt was made early this morning to lift the chair car with a hoisting crane, but the car's weight was too great, and it would not budge. The smoking car is buried underneath the baggage express and chair cars, and despite the fact that several holes with acetylene torches have been burned through portions of the smoking car, no traces of bodies have been found. It was believed most of the victims were trapped in the smoker.

City Would Avoid Gas Tax If It Is Possible

California's tax of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline, which went into effect this morning, is likely to cost the city of Glendale $50 a month.

City Manager W. H. Reeves today instructed City Attorney Ray L. Morrow to ascertain definitely whether or not the tax must be paid upon gasoline used by the municipally owned machines.

Dan J. Smith, assistant city controller, reported that about 2500 gallons of gasoline are used by all machines except the fire trucks which used an additional seventy-five gallons of gas a month.

The public service department now uses seven trucks, two tractors and eleven roadsters. General government requires eight trucks, two tractors and nineteen roadsters. The fire department has one roadster, five fire trucks and one delivery truck. The police department has four motorcycles. Altogether almost sixty gasoline-propelled vehicles are kept busy by the city of Glendale.

GLENDALE BEATS OXNARD 46 TO 0

Terrible Example Is Made of Bean City Eleven in Practice Game

By NEAL E. SOOY
Written for The Evening News Running up a huge score, the varsity football team of Glendale Union high school defeated the Oxnard eleven on the enemy's field last Saturday 46-0. The locals were never in danger, although if the Beach City lads had had a little more experience, the Dynamiters would have been given a much harder fight.

Howard Elliott was the best player for Glendale, making two of the seven touchdowns and converting four out of the seven tries. His accurate passing and flashy running also helped to pile up the score. Dick Ryan played his old-time stellar game for the first time this year, crossing the line three times. Marcel Elliott and Captain Ronald West also scored once apiece. Horii at left end was the best lineman. Muldoon, Oxnard's fullback, was the outstanding player on their side, his passing, punting and running serving to give the Red and Black squad plenty of opposition.

Fish Injures Ankle
The game was marred by one misadventure when Harry Fish, Glendale tackle, was taken out of the game for a week or two as he was unable to walk on the injured member.

Glendale kicked off at the start of the game and Oxnard was forced to punt on the fourth down. Glendale went thirty yards to the goal line where Howard Elliott took the punt across. He also converted. Glendale kicked off and Oxnard was again forced to punt. Oxnard was using a passing system of attack entirely, and the locals broke up every try. Glendale lost on yards and Oxnard again punted on the last down. Glendale failed to make yards and punted. Oxnard held the ball at the end of the quarter.
Score: 7-0.

Oxnard punted in the second.
Horii made forty yards on a pass.
Ryan put the oval across the line.
Elliott failed to convert. Oxnard kicked. The ball see-sawed back and forth until Howard Elliott intercepted a forward pass and Ryan made another touchdown.
Elliott failed to convert. Glendale kicked and the ball again see-sawed around until the half ended. Score: 19-0.

Keep the Bell Ringing Oxnard kicked and Glendale punted. Howard Elliott intercepted a pass and ran for a touchdown. He failed to convert.
Glendale kicked and Oxnard lost the ball. West and Bud Elliott took the ball up the field until Bud scored on an end run. His brother converted. Glendale kicked and Oxnard returned the ball. Elliott tried a drop kick, but the Beach lads blocked it.
Glendale got the ball and advanced up the field. Ryan squirreled his way over the line.
Elliott converted. Score: 39-0.

Glendale kicked. Oxnard used straight football for the first time and bucked their way up the field for thirty yards before they were stopped. The ball changed hands several times for a while, and then the locals got busy and fought their way up the field.
West scored on an end run. Elliott converted. Glendale kicked and Oxnard reverted to the serial offensive. Howard Elliott intercepted one of the passes, but Oxnard intercepted one of Glendale's the next play. Elliott again intercepted a pass and almost scored but was stopped a little ways from the goal. The whistle ended the game right after this play. Score: Glendale, 46; Oxnard, 0.

After the game, the visitors were royally entertained by the bean lads, who served punch, sandwiches and cookies to the hungry players.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

The ever popular Norma Talmadge, in her latest starring vehicle, "She Loves and Lies," seeks to interpret the answer to the age-old riddle, Does a Woman Lie When She Loves? The play has been adapted for the screen from Wilkie Collins' famous novel of the same name, and Miss Talmadge, as the principal character, disguises herself so successfully that her husband, whom she has married as a matter of convenience and to alleviate his financial misfortunes, fails to recognize her.

"She Loves and Lies" grips the interest at the start, grows in suspense and ends in a climax that contains a striking surprise.
The part played by Norma Talmadge gives her one of the finest opportunities of her entire career, and Conway Tearle, who plays opposite her, has also a role that is admirably fitted to his talents and that forms a splendid foil to the fun-making of the star.

A Pop Tuttle comedy rounds out a bill that features Paul Carson at the Wurlitzer playing
"Alabama Black Sheep."

THE GATEWAY

"Rupert of Hentzau," the fascinating photoplay based on the novel of the same name by Sir Anthony Hope, keeps the premier place at the Gateway Theatre for two days more, and its first night's reception of the picture showed the hold that a real romance keeps on the affections of the moving picture patrons of Glendale.

The story tells in graphic fashion of the plots and counter-plots that mark the struggle for the kingdom of Ruritania, with Rupert of Hentzau, the dashing scapgrace, on one side and Rudolf Rassendyl, the king's double, on the other. Through it all runs the love element, passionate but exalted, of the romance of Rassendyl and Queen Flavia, handled in such a masterly fashion that the play maintains the interest at as high a pitch as ever did the book itself.

The picture is staged with a wealth of detail and historical accuracy that place it in the highest class of pictures today and that merit all the praise that has been lavished on it.

Glendale Nimrods Out After Elusive Ducks

Shortly after 5:30 this morning about every lake, slough and other spots where ducks hang out, found Glendale duck hunters on hand in large numbers waiting their big chance to pot the day's limit of the water fowls.
Reports indicate that plenty of ducks, especially sprig, are at the lakes, and before sundown today many a limit of birds is expected to have fallen prey to some local sportsman.

Large numbers of shooters will hunt today at the new gun club, known as Chittenden club, located at Buena Vista lake. Half of the lake will be open to public shooting, while the other half will be for the Chittenden club members. Other public places to shoot will be at Del Rey, Sunset Beach, and in the upper back sections of Newport bay, in the Imperial valley, and at Elizabeth lake in Bouquet canyon, the latter being a popular place for Glendale nimrods.

The largest lump of coal believed ever mined was ten feet long and five feet high.

the backfield, was enough to make any varsity coach feel proud of himself.

Bears Score 49 Points
Up at Berkeley Andy Smith showed that he is still much in the running when his California
Bears trampled over the St.
Mary's huskies to the tune of 49 to 0. Unlike Henderson, Smith goes out from the start every year rolling up scores as large as possible, and 1923 is no exception.
Nevertheless, any team that is capable of scoring half a hundred digits against any collegiate squad is one to be reckoned for the championship.

In spite of Saturday's showing we are still of the belief that the Trojan-Bear fracas will be a fifty-fifty betting affair.

An outsider gazing at Saturday's conflict would gain the impression that the Caltek men had been playing together two or three months and that the Trojans had hardly gotten acquainted with each other yet. However, with Henderson's abundant material, combined with his coaching skill and cunning, it's a safe bet to place U. S. C. one-two in the 1923 conference standing. Every team usually has at least one off-day during the season, and it's a good thing the Trojans had theirs early.

Peagreeners Win
Coach Leo Calland's 1927 pea-greeners proved that they were they squad, they're press-agented as being when they trimmed the Loyola college aggregation 15 to 0 in the preliminary game. The score was held down on account of Calland sending in three complete elevens. Had the first outfit remained on the field to the end, the total score would probably have been doubled or trebled. The showing made by the freshmen, particularly by Laranetta and Field Thompson in

Papyrus Will Be No Sideshow Attraction

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Only at the appointed hours when the colt will be taken for exercise will curious thousands be permitted to view Papyrus, English derby winner at his quarters at Bel-day. This action was taken after Sunday crowds had fairly over-their efforts to gain a close-up view of the horse that will race America's leading 3-year-old for

The excitement of the day had

FIRE BURNS OVER 300 ACRES ARROYO

La Canada Homes in Danger as Brush Blaze Sweeps Over Hillside

Members of Glendale's fire department were dispatched to Flintridge Saturday afternoon to aid in extinguishing a blaze which burned over 300 acres north of Devil's Gate dam and endangered the Flintridge Country Club as well as the entire La Canada valley.

For a time it appeared that several homesites would be burned over, but golfers from the Flintridge club, assisted by the Pasadena fire department and passing motorists kept the fire confined to a limited area along the Arroyo Seco.

The Glendale firemen returned by 3 o'clock, reporting that the fire was under control after two hours of battling against a heavy wind. Smoke came rolling down the arroyo and spread over Pasadena and Eagle Rock, making some of the residents fearful that they would be featured in the Sunday papers as "another Berkeley."

Origin Undetermined
Origin of the fire was not determined. More than 300 people participated in war against the blazing brush which flamed like so much tinder, it is said. At the same time a blaze in the San Dimas wash each of Los Angeles was engaging the attention of the Los Angeles county forester's office.

Severe penalties will be inflicted on all found guilty of being responsible for brush fires, it is declared, and while a passing motorist may have been the incendiary, as was stated in yesterday's papers, the investigation of fires recently has disclosed that most of them are due to misplaced confidence in burning brush.

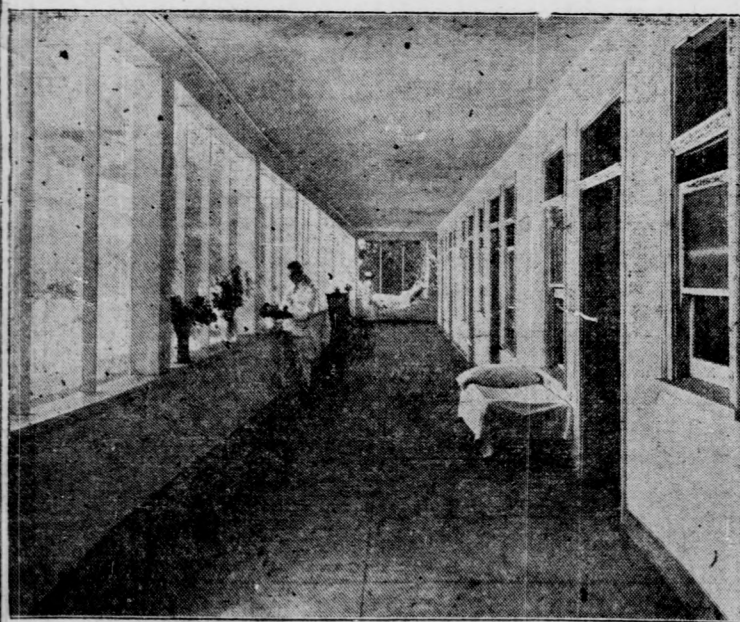

No Legal Problem in Way of Sewer Vote

No legal problem is likely to prevent the calling of a special election to vote sewer bonds, in the opinion of City Attorney Ray L. Morrow, who stated this morning that such an election could be called in three weeks if necessary. As the city has ninety days, under the agreement with Los Angeles, in which to sign the contract, he anticipates that no difficulty will be experienced.

Attorney Jesse Stevens, city attorney of Los Angeles, according to Attorney Morrow, is co-operating in every way possible. A final conference in regard to the details of the working agreement was held Saturday morning. It was attended by W. T. Knowlton, sanitary engineer of Los Angeles, and a number of Glendale city officials.

Motor Cops Nab Drivers Passing Others at Corner

MOTORCYCLE officers are an ingenious lot. They have discovered a "bug" in the new motor vehicle law which gives them an easy job at Park avenue and Brand boulevard, Glendale, it is reported. They are arresting every motorist whose machine passes another car at the intersection. Sure, it is "agin the law." But Saturday they reckoned not with one college youth on his way to school. He was hurrying, no doubt, but another car passed him on the wrong side, according to his version. The motorcycle officer arrested the boy, in the belief he was endeavoring to pass the other car. Now what will the judge think of that?

Week-end Collisions Cause Minor Damages

A number of minor automobile collisions occurred over the week-end in Glendale.

Miss Ethel Todd and her sister, Miss Della Todd of 541 West Broadway, escaped injury when they were struck by a machine driven by L. R. Birdwell of Los Angeles.

"The ladies stepped in front of the car with their backs to me," he reported. "They refused to go to the hospital."

What happens when two automobiles try to occupy the same space simultaneously, was illustrated once more about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Ross Morrow of 324 Magnolia avenue, Burbank, was driving south on Brand boulevard. Alexander Robertson of Hermosa Beach was going east on Elk. Robertson's machine was struck on the left running board near the rear wheel. No one was injured.

Milton J. Hansdorf, 5416 North Delaware avenue, Eagle Rock, had his car damaged when it was struck by another car driven by C. H. Oppenheimer of Los Angeles. The accident occurred last night at the intersection of Broadway and Jackson street.

In order to avoid hitting a woman, who was crossing Broadway about 6:50 Saturday night, Fred H. Sauter of 533 South street, was obliged to come to a sudden stop. As a result, an automobile driven by Fred Warriner of Hollywood ran into the rear end of his car.

YOUR UNCLE SAM REPORTS ON TAXES

Revenue From Incomes Hits New High Figure Here During September

Income tax receipts in the Los Angeles internal revenue district for September were virtually as great as the entire income collections for July, August and September of 1922, according to a report made to Washington yesterday by Collector Rex Goodcell.

The September income receipts were $7,614,604 as against $7,729,959 for July, August and September of 1922.

Collector Goodcell's survey shows that California paid more income tax for the fiscal year 1923 than the combined amount collected in the fourteen western states of Wyoming, Washington, Utah, Texas, South Dakota, Oregon, North Dakota, New Mexico, Nevada, Nebraska, Idaho, Colorado, Arizona and Oklahoma.

The total for these fourteen states was $84,351,000 as against $84,473,000 for California.

Outstanding features of Collector Goodcell's special survey were:

Poignant Paragraphs
That while the United States as a whole develops a decrease in income tax receipts for the fiscal year 1923 as compared with 1922 of $573,000,000, the Los Angeles district showed a gain of $1,333,823.

That Los Angeles city registered a gain of 62.3 per cent in personal income returns filed in 1923 over 1922.

That tax receipts from articles manufactured in the Los Angeles district showed increases ranging from 13 to 269 per cent.

That tax collections on oleomargarine manufactured in Southern California represent an increase in production of 139 per cent.

Stamp Sales Increase
That stamp sales which indicate general business activity increased 49 per cent.

That during the first six months of 1923 receipts from admissions to motion picture theatres and other places of amusement were $1,603,646, as against $582,606 for the entire fiscal year 1918.

This increase was made in the face of the fact that the tax on admissions of ten cents or less has been repealed.

That the total collections of the district for the fiscal year 1923 were $47,938,443, as against $2,503,447 in 1918.

New York Pastor at Gospel Tabernacle

"There is a way that seemeth right unto men but the end thereof is the way of death." This was the text of the sermon last night at the Gospel Tabernacle. Rev. E. J. Richards of New York occupied the pulpit. He is home secretary of the Christian Missionary Alliance.

"The way of Cain,—the way whereby men expect to get to Heaven by their own merit," he declared, "is the way that leads to death."

"It may seem right to put your business, your advancement, your position uppermost in your mind," he continued, "but it is the way that leads to death. To obey is better than sacrifice. God's command is clean-cut separation from the things of the world. The worst thought that the devil ever put in the heart of man is that he can find God whenever he gets ready. The only way to life eternal is the way of Jesus Christ."

Tonight Rev. E. J. Richards is speaking upon the topic "The Broken Life." Tomorrow night he will speak again. This afternoon Rev. George W. Davis spoke. Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Thomas Mosley, returned missionary from China, and Dr. Elwood P. Lyon of Pasadena, will both speak.

REALTORS PLEDGE AID FOR SEWERS

Glendale's Future Growth to Establish New Records, Says C. D. Thom

The Glendale Realty Board on Saturday night went on record as approving the action of the City Council in securing the contract for the construction of a sewer system with the Los Angeles City Council and pledged the united efforts of its members in the passage of the bond issue that will be necessary to finance the project.

This action of the Glendale Realty Board was taken at a meeting that was held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium to decide the contest that was scheduled to determine the orator who is to represent the Glendale Realty Board in the Home Town contest that is a part of the program at the annual convention of the California Real Estate convention to be held in Sacramento from October 10 to 13.

Lauds City Council
President Cameron D. Thom, in opening the meeting, praised the council for the successful conclusion of their long and arduous effort to secure the sewers for the city and predicted that Glendale's growth in the future, with this utility assured, will far overshadow that which has been recorded in the past.

In responding, Mayor Spencer Robinson gave full credit to his associates on the City Council, and also to Marco Hellman, the Los Angeles financier, to Charles H. Toll of Glendale, to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and its secretary, E. F. Sanders, and to all of the local organizations that had worked with the council to insure the success of the sewer project.

Declaring that there was nothing in the contract that could not be understood by any schoolboy, Councilman Sam Davis explained the terms of the agreement between Glendale and Los Angeles, showing that Glendale's expense in connection with the upkeep of the sewers will be based on the proportion of sewage from this city that flows through the outfall sewer. The Los Angeles officials, Mr. Davis said, have shown a willingness to co-operate with Glendale in this matter that augurs well for the future friendly relations between the two cities, and he quoted Marco Hellman as saying that "Glendale is the best bet outside of Los Angeles in Southern California." TODAY—Where Will Turk Capital Be? Constantinople Is Unlikely.

By CONSTANTINE STEPHANOV
For International News Service

SOFIA, Oct. 1.—Though the Turks have been given a free hand to drive away from their domain and from Constantinople, the capital, in particular, all foreigners, which they are already doing by causing the expulsion of thousands of Greeks, Armenians and other alien elements, and have become again absolute masters of the ancient city, still the burning question of the day throughout Turkey is: "Should Ankara or Stamboul be our capital?"

The national council at Ankara, presided over by Mustafa Pasha, has already decided that Ankara is to be Turkey's future capital. The grounds for this decision are obvious. The patriotic Turks argue that Ankara is strategically invulnerable, as was recently demonstrated in the World War, and again in the Greco-Turkish struggle. It is a purely Turkish town, far from the intrigues of European diplomacy and European destructive influence. Constantinople ever since it has become the capital of Turkey has been Turkey's most vulnerable point and has caused, it is declared, its gradual weakening and fall of Turkish power and authority in the world.

"Constantinople will never be completely rid of the Christian and infidel," vehemently argues the old Turk. "All the nations on earth know that our greatest mosque there is St. Sophia, once a Christian church. Allah can never be pleased to be worshipped by us Mohammedans in a Christian temple. "Stamboul is no more a Mohammedan city, but the greatest den of international spies, conspirators, corruption and intrigue. We have had enough of all this in the past. Stamboul is no more Islam (a place full of Turks). It has always been a foreign town for us. It has rejoiced when we had sorrowed and has grieved when we rejoiced and were triumphant."

The general public opinion in Turkey is in favor of Ankara as Turkey's future capital. The National Council has already decreed it. It is curious to know also that immediately after that decision was taken the National Assembly passed this resolution and oath, which had to be solemnly uttered by every member of the assembly: "I swear before Allah that I shall not follow in the path which is contrary to the happiness and salvation of my country and that I shall ever remain a faithful and loyal servant and supporter of our national sovereignty."

Outsiders, however, think that the old Turks will have to yield to expediency and that Stamboul will continue to be the capital of Turkey also, and that the future of Turkey would depend on whether Constantinople will remain as heretofore the metropolis of the Ottoman empire.

ALTRUISM FAILURE, IS CLAIM

Miss Nancy Jordan with her son Francis, Frank G. Warren, alleged father of the child and his divorced wife, Mrs. Mary Van Trump Warren.

Another bitter tragedy of the World War is recalled as Miss Nancy Jordan, unwed war mother, announces her intention to return to England with her son. Miss Jordan came to America on the invitation of Mrs. Mary Warren, divorced wife of her alleged betrayer, Frank G. Warren, as her guest. But she now claims that Mrs. Warren's altruistic spirit has changed.

SARGASSO SEA

This is the graveyard of old sailing ships—

Unburied, broken masts bleach in the sun,

Dead as last kisses on dead lovers' lips.

And quiet now, their mission being done,

Time was—and not so long ago—when these,

Their sails flung wide, were couriers of the main,

Braving the thousand dangers of the seas

For England's glory, or to honor Spain.

And now no shred of pennon swings to tell

To what forgotten cause their path was laid,

But we can know they served their masters well.

For those who captained them were unafraid.

Only a passing gull sweeps from the sky

To look at them, so quietly they lie! —Mardi Prochain.

ONE SURE THING

Major Mzemba Bulgar, arriving in the club by the back way and all covered with mud and grime from a long motor trip, marched up to a group of gentlemen at the dining table and said to one of them:

"Well," said the clubman, "I don't know about the room, but if you sit with this bunch long you sure will get bored!" —News-paper Club Reporter.

Henry Ford with the largest cash balance in the world at his command may be assumed to have reached that goal of the average man's ambition whereat he feels free to order what he wants to eat in a hotel dining room without glancing at the prices.

One trouble with the league of nations seems to be that, unlike the American League, it has no Judge Landis to dictate what shall and what shall not be done. Also it needs umpires with nerve enough to get after the pop bottle throwers in the bleachers.

RELAXATION

How often have I sat in shady dingle

Or lolled at ease in far bucolic dell,

Or dug my toes deep in the ocean's shingle

And watched the giddy one-piece bathing belle?

How often have I druv the cows to clover,

Enjoying every jot of rural charm

That always (in the poems) hovered over

That dear old double-mortgaged Jersey farm?

How often have I angled for the muskie

That prowls the lower reaches of the lake,

And battled hours to land this fighting husky,

Or followed, with a gun, the duck and drake?

How often have I sailed the cat so dashing

Across the tossing waters of the bay,

Through angry, foam-tossed billows gayly crashing,

And soaked clear to the hide by salty spray?

How often have I fled the humid city?

I may as well confess the truth at once,

I'm quite content and do not ask for pity.

I never have done any of these stunts.

Adventures of Billy Whiskers

By Frances Trego Montgomery

Yesterday you remember we left Stubby dodging about through the crowd trying to reach Button, and a man who was posing as a Turk lost his balance and his false beard trying to kick him.

"Mew! Mew!" from a cat close behind Stubby, and he turned expecting to see Button. Instead, there was the largest cat he had ever seen, who said: "Thank you for exposing that fraud. He has kept me shut up in a little stuffy room and made me lie on a pillow with an uncomfortable, big, red bow at the back of my neck for a week, passing me off as a genuine Persian cat, and telling the crowds that the Shah of Persia gave me to him for doing him a great favor, and that I was worth over a thousand dollars in their money. This is only one of the many lies he tells the people who enter his booth after paying their ten cents admission fee to see an old street in Constantinople, as he calls his little old trumped-up place. But with him, and Stubby was no slow runner at that. They soon stopped to get their breath, and then Stubby told Duke that he was to meet his friends under the Tower of Jewels in three hours from the time he had left them, so that they might know if any of them had gotten on the trail of Nannie or had found her.

(Tomorrow you will hear how Billy Whiskers tried to find Nannie.)

POEMS That LIVE

SONNET

Ay, thou art for the grave; thy glances shine

Too brightly to shine long; another Spring

Shall deck her for men's eyes— but not for thine—

Sealed in a sleep which knows no wakening.

The fields for thee have no medicinal leaf,

And the vexed ore no mineral power;

And they who love thee wait in anxious grief

Till the slow plague shall bring the fatal hour.

Glide softly to thy rest, then; Death should come

Gentle to one of gentle mould like thee,

As light winds wandering through groves of bloom

Detach the delicate blossom from the tree.

Close thy sweet eyes, calmly, and without pain,

And we will trust in God to see thee yet again.

—William Cullen Bryant.

come with me. I better get away from here or they will be catching me and shutting me up again. Won't you come with me?" "No," returned Stubby. "You come with me, and I will introduce you to my friends." "Was that big, splendid looking black cat I just saw run past here your friend? For if he was, I should like to meet him." "Yes, he is my friend, and a truer, better one never breathed in cat skin before." "Kitty! Kitty! Kitty! Come here, Duke! Come here and I'll give you some meat!" called a pretty girl wearing a Turkish costume as she stood in the door of the booth. But instead of going to her the cat stuck his tail up over his back and ran as fast as he could down the Zone street in the direction Button had taken. He ran so fast, in fact, that it was all Stubby could do to keep up

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BONFIRE

"Uncle Wiggily, what is a bun fire?" asked Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, one day, when she had come visiting to the hollow stump bungalow. "A bun fire?" repeated Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I should say a bun fire was a fire where you burned buns." "How silly!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Whoever heard of burning buns! What's all this, anyhow, about a bun fire?"

"I was just reading about it in my story book," said Baby Bunty. "It says they built a bun fire and had lots of fun."

"Oh, she means a BON-fire!" laughed Nurse Jane. "Bon is a French word, Baby Bunty, meaning good, and when they first built those fires it was because something good had happened. Something jolly, you know."

"Yes'm," spoke Baby Bunty. "I guess I spelled it wrong. But I'd like a jolly bonfire, Uncle Wiggily. Couldn't you make me one?"

"Why, I s'pose I could," answered the rabbit gentleman, slowly. "We could make a bonfire, you and I, Baby Bunty, and roast apples in it."

"I thought it would be something like this," sighed Nurse Jane. "You are more of a child than ever, Wiggily. Building bonfires at your age! And I was going to ask you to go to the store for me."

"I'll go!" quickly offered Uncle Wiggily. "What is it you want?" "Molasses," answered the muskrat lady. "I want to make a molasses pie."

"Then molasses you shall have," sang Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose. "And on the way home Baby Bunty and I will build a bonfire and roast apples."

So the bunny gentleman and the little rabbit girl started off, and in a little while they were at the molasses store.

"I thought you were going to build a bonfire," complained Baby Bunty.

"I am," said Uncle Wiggily. "But business before pleasure, you know. It is business to get Nurse Jane the molasses. Now that we have it, we shall take pleasure in building the bonfire."

So, carrying the jug of molasses, Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty hopped along until they came to a place where there were some wood and dried leaves. And it was right on the edge of an apple orchard.

"This is a dandy place to make a bonfire," said the rabbit gentleman. "You sit down on the grass, Bunty, and keep out of the way of burning sparks. I'll make the fire."

Soon the rabbit gentleman had a cheerful blaze snapping and crackling under an apple tree. And when the fire was blazing hot, he placed in the glowing embers some apples that he had picked up off the ground, and applies the farmer man didn't want.

"How long before they will be ready to eat?" asked Baby Bunty. "Oh, in about ten minutes, I guess," Uncle Wiggily answered. "Ho! Ho!" suddenly cried a harsh voice behind the apple tree. "I know something that will be ready to eat in less than ten minutes! Ho! Ho!"

"What do you mean?" asked Uncle Wiggily, before he had time to think.

"I mean your ears," howled the voice of the Woozie Wolf, as he sprang out from behind the tree. "I am going to nibble your ears and I am not going to wait ten minutes, either!"

"Oh, my goodness!" shouted Baby Bunty. "And then, being a lively, smart little rabbit girl, instead of fainting as a wax doll would have done, Baby Bunty began to think of a way to save Uncle Wiggily's ears."

The Woozie Wolf was just leaping to catch the bunny rabbit gentleman, when Baby Bunty threw a lot of wet leaves on the bonfire. The wet leaves made a lot of thick smoke, which blew in the eyes of the bad Wolf.

"Where are you?" Ker-choo! Ker-snoo! sneezed the Wolf. "I can't see you, Uncle Wiggily! Where are you?"

"Don't say a word," whispered Baby Bunty, as she pulled Uncle Wiggily behind a cloud of thick, white smoke. "Keep still and he can't find us!"

The Wolf went lumbering around, coughing, choking and sneezing, besides hiccoughing, as the smoke got in his eyes, but he couldn't find the bunny rabbit. Then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily looked through the cloud of smoke and they saw the end of our baked apples," said Baby Bunty, which she and Uncle Wiggily did after the smoke had blown away.

"Oh, my goodness!" shouted Baby Bunty.

They had a jolly good time, and the molasses pie Nurse Jane made was most delicious. And if the chocolate cake doesn't try to go swimming with the gold fish and catch cold, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the big wind.

Dinner Stories

William was thirsty for knowledge and interesting facts shown like jewels in his brain. "I read today," he said to Michael, "of the wonderful progress made in aviation. Men can now do anything—absolutely anything—a bird can do."

But Michael was tired of wonders—he was more matter of fact. "Is that so?" he answered. "Well, when you see an airman fast asleep hanging onto a branch of a tree with one foot, I'll come and have a look!"—London Answers.

One mother who considers the marcel wave as the most fashionable way of dressing the hair was at work on the job, says Judge.

Her little eight-year-old girl was crunched on her father's lap, watching her mother. Every once in a while the little fingers would slide over the smooth, glossy pate which is her father's.

"No waves for you, father," remarked the little one, "you're all beach!"

Mrs. Matthews was learning to drive her new car and was very much thrilled over it, says Judge. "Of course," she said, "I could never change a tire myself. Why, I can't even lift one. You know they have eighty pounds of air in them in addition to the weight of the tire!"

10 Years Ago Today
From Evening News Files

There is an organization in Glendale which is unique in that it affords entertainment for many, still is given little publicity. It is the Glendale Horseshoe Club, organized some three years ago and meeting in vacant lots back of Newberry's store.

A Los Angeles paper of recent date says: "It is generally understood that the Pacific Electric will shortly take over the Glendale-Montrose railway."

In a reply to the question asked by The Evening News yesterday whom to call in case of fire in Glendale, H. M. Miller, city fire chief, says that it is necessary to notify either one of the telephone exchanges, as arrangements have been made with the operators to give the alarm to the proper persons. He says when the new fire house is complete systematic arrangement will be made for giving alarms.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

THE THYROID GLAND

Nothing I have written upon, with the exception of my instructions for attaining normal weight, has created more interest than the articles on the thyroid and thyroid glands. I have noticed from many of your inquiries and the comments upon the article that have come to me that some of you are confusing one gland with the other. Because of this and of the great interest in this subject, I will write on these glands again this week.

The thyroid gland is a gland in the neck which persists throughout life and is not noticeable unless it becomes enlarged. Then it is known as a goiter.

The thymus is a gland which is situated in the chest just below the neck. It extends down over the top of the heart slightly. In man, this gland attains its greatest size soon after birth; after the second year of life it greatly diminishes in size until, in adult life, there is only a vestige left of it. Occasionally the thymus gland will persist until puberty—the beginning of adult life—and occasionally it may persist throughout life. If it persists longer than normal the patient has a condition known as status lymphaticus.

The thymus glands of sheep we know as the neck sweatbreads. (The pancreas and intestinal gland back of the stomach is also called sweatbreads.) It has been stated that the thymus gland persists throughout life in hibernating animals; that at the hibernating period the gland enlarges and becomes laden with fat, and this store of fat helps to maintain the energy during the winter sleep.

The function of this gland is not fully known. But as it is a lymphoid tissue, something like the lymph glands and the spleen, it probably helps to make the white corpuscles of the blood. Therefore it may be a blood-forming organ which is necessary in early life. There is also some connection apparently between the thymus and the generative organs, for in animals that are castrated the gland does not disappear or atrophy (shriveled up) in its normal time, while removal of the gland hastens the growth of the testes (generative glands).

It occasionally happens that the thymus gland is enlarged beyond normal and does not atrophy as rapidly as it should. In these cases coughing and obstruction of the breathing—thymic asthma—usually results. Autopsies have disclosed sometimes that persons who have died suddenly under an anesthetic have had enlarged thymus glands.

Children or adults who have difficult breathing, asthma, persistent cough and other chest symptoms should have an X-ray taken of the chest. This picture may show the cause of their symptoms to be an enlarged thymus gland. (Not infrequently pins and other foreign bodies show up in such X-ray pictures, as well as enlarged thymuses.)

The treatment for an enlarged thymus gland is the X-ray treatment. There was a report in the general news sections of the New York papers recently of the spectacular curing of a baby's life by the application of X-ray to its thymus gland. The report stated that the baby, apparently normal at birth, almost ceased breathing when two days old. She was rushed to an infirmary, where artificial respiration with oxygen was applied to the gland and the baby twenty-four hours, during which time an X-ray picture was made. This disclosed that the baby's thymus gland was very much enlarged. X-ray treatment was applied to the gland and the baby recovered.

At a recent children's clinic I attended in New York City there were exhibited several babies and children who had also recovered from severe breathing difficulties as a result of the use of the X-ray on their enlarged thymus glands. Tomorrow—The Thyroid Gland.

IMPORTANT!

Readers of this column are very many and very interested. They write many inquiries, which Dr. Peters is eager to have and very glad to answer when possible. But more and more they neglect to self-address envelopes for her reply.

Now, owing to the great number of inquiries received, we are sorry that it is no longer possible to make reply unless the simple rules of the column are observed. Hereafter if you expect a reply you must enclose a stamped envelope, fully addressed to yourself, with your inquiry. Otherwise your letter will have to be destroyed and the postage (if sent) will be given to charity.—The Editor.

WRINKLES

A badly wrinkled skin needs stimulation, astringent treatments and a nourishing skinfood—the last more than the others. If it's a case of avoiding wrinkles, the wise woman will begin five years before she expects them and will use astringent treatments. But if it's a case of curing wrinkles already well engraved, she'll find herself a wrinkle cream and use it methodically.

Personally, I have had excellent results with the following: Rose water, 4 ounces; almond oil, 4 ounces; spermaceti, 1 ounce; white wax, 1 ounce; benzoin, 1 drachm; borax, 30 grains. The oil, wax and spermaceti are melted together, then the warmed rose water and benzoin added, the whole beaten until ready to congeal, and then poured off into jars. Olive oil can be substituted if you wish. I like this cream as well as the more nourishing lanolin creams because it is easier to apply and massage. And massage is half the treatment.

A new method of treating wrinkles is called cupping. To do this, take a small cup, have it quite warm, press it against the skin and press until you have a fair bulge of skin in it. Let it stay a moment, then remove. Repeat in another spot. Do not do the same place a second time until the redness has gone. This draws the blood and stimulates the circulation, but if done again and again on one spot may cause a little congestion. An egg cup is a convenient size to use. It should always be clean and the edge wiped off each time with an antiseptic. Follow any treatment with an ice rub whenever you can procure ice. If this isn't possible, use very cold water, quite salty, or with enough tincture of benzoin added to make a slight milkiness.

Mary A.: The best oil treatments for dandruff are those from crude oil, massaged into scalp, hot, the night before the regular shampoo. Tie the head up overnight, so as not to stain the bed linen. Shampoo until all trace of the oil has been removed, when you will find that the scalp has no trace of the dandruff. In addition to this, use a good hair tonic several times each week, and mas-

Brown Meat Stew—Buy two and one-half pounds of beef from the shoulder or use the same weight in mutton, veal, pork or chicken. Have the meat cut in cubes about one and one-half inch square. Sprinkle these with salt, pepper and a little flour. Now brown the meat cubes in bacon drippings in your frying pan. Put the browned cubes into a deep pot, then brown the frying pan with boiling water so that none of the juices are lost; add this frying-pan liquid to the pot containing the meat, and cover with boiling water. Let boil six or seven minutes rapidly, then lower the temperature and simmer till the meat cubes are almost tender (about two hours). Now add to the pot one cup of pared diced carrots, four onions peeled and cut in half, one cup of pared diced turnips and salt and pepper to season; let continue to boil until these vegetables are cooked (about one hour longer), and fifteen minutes before they are done add two cups of pared diced potatoes. Thicken the stew with gravy just before serving. (During the entire period of cooking it may be necessary to add a little boiling water, as the liquid boils away.) This is one of the best "one-dish dinners" the housewife can serve. A fruit salad, a cup of coffee and some kind of dessert completes the meal.

Fruit "Snowball" Dessert—Steam one cup of rice in the top of your double boiler till tender. Core and pare five or six small, ripe apples. Cut five or six pieces of clean cheesecloth ten inches square, dip these squares into hot water, wring them well and lay them on a plate one at a time. Show a layer of the cooked rice over each square of cheesecloth (about one-third inch thick), place an apple in the center on top of the rice, filling the center of the apple with more rice, then draw the edges of the cloth around the apple, taking care to cover it with rice. Tie the ends of the cheesecloth together tightly. Place these little bags in a colander and sink the colander into the top of a deep pot which contains a little boiling water in the bottom; put on pot cover and do not raise it for fifteen or eighteen minutes, during which time the water in the bottom of the pot must continue to boil. Serve hot, with any liquid fruit sauce, each "little snowball" taken out of its cheesecloth case. (Note—Peaches or apricots may be used in this dessert instead of apples, if desired.)

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of twenty-one and have never gone with boys, although I would like to go with them. There isn't any one that I am just crazy about, but I have heard so many girls say what a good time they have had with certain boys.

It couldn't be that looks amount to so much. I am not good looking, although many have said I was. I keep myself clean and I try to be as mannerly as I can. I have had very little education, but I am sure no one could tell it unless he heard me speak. I have tried to speak correctly in every way.

Is there any way I could become attractive to boys? I don't look old and I never worry about my looks.

I am the oldest of eight children. My mother has been dead four years and I have been at home quite a bit, taking care of things. I haven't pretty clothes. Could that be the reason that even my girl friends act queer with me?

I have some pimples and blackheads. What would be good for that? Do you see anything queer in my letter to show I am very much to blame? When I am out with girls and they go for a walk I do not go with them if I am not asked. Should I go any way? I take everything to heart that people tell me. Could that have anything to do with this? Please help me.

LOVELY QUEER GIRL.

First of all I am going to recommend something for your pimples and blackheads, because very often the reason a girl is not popular is because her complexion is bad. If the treatment I recommend does not bring satisfactory results in two or three months, I would advise you to consult a physician. The condition of your blood may be bad and in need of help me.

and state.—The Editor.

treatment, in which case the following external treatment will be of little value:

To cure blackheads make an ointment of one ounce of soap liniment and one ounce of ether; mix. At night scrub the face thoroughly with hot water, using a complexion or other soft brush. After wiping, apply the mixture to each of the spots and let it remain on overnight. Wash off in the morning with hot water. Continue until the spots have disappeared. Then twice a week wash the face with this mixture, removing the liquid at once by rinsing with clear water. If there are large pores, wipe over each with a little alcohol.

For pimples that frequently appear with blackheads make an ointment of two grams of beta naphthol, twenty grams of sulphur precipitate and twenty grams of potash soap. Rub over the pimples at night.

This may be used at the same time as the blackhead mixture. The fact that you are neat and careful of your manners is very much in your favor. Try to make your clothes pretty and in good taste even if you have few of them. I would also suggest that you take a course in a business school where you will learn to spell, improve your general education, meet people, and fit yourself for something besides housework. With your sensitive nature it is not wise for you to spend too much time in the home at housework. Although you probably cheat yourself out of some pleasures, I admire you for staying away when you feel you are not wanted. You would be so happy if you worked in an office, I believe. There you would feel useful and could win friends by your efforts. Try to arrange some way so that you can be spared at home.

THE PROBLEM OF THE WAYWARD GIRL

Miss Virginia M. Murray, general secretary and directing head of the Travelers' Aid Society of New York, recently made a scitific investigation into the cases of 150 runaway girls to determine the impulses which caused them to leave home.

The average age of the girls was seventeen years. In sixty-two cases out of the one hundred and fifty there had been trouble and misunderstanding at home. Some of the girls felt that their parents cared more for the other children than for them. Several were running away from husbands chosen for them by their families. Eighteen had been married. A spirit of adventure, largely an aftermath of the late war, prompted some to go. In the majority of cases the standard of the home was below the normal in the community.

Big sister work to help the ambitious girl to find herself in her community Miss Murray suggests as a worthwhile activity for club women. Sixty thousand girls run away from home every year in the United States.

BURBANK

SCHOOLS DEMAND
LARGER FACULTY

Increase in Enrollment Is Cause for Employment Of More Teachers

Increase in the enrollment of students in the Burbank schools since the opening of the present term have been so great as to compel the school board to employ three additional teachers to care for the situation. These are Miss Mabel McCandless of Los Angeles, who will take the first grade room at the Luther Burbank school; Mrs. L. B. Steiner, who has been acting as substitute, goes on the regular faculty as physical training teacher in the John Muir school; and Mrs. Ned Palmer, who will teach manual training and domestic science at the Edison school.

The enrollment on September 11, when school opened, with 1284, and on September 20, nine days later, it had jumped to 1436, with prospects of an even greater increase in the immediate future.

Plans for the widening of San Fernando boulevard by the addition of 20 feet from Palm avenue to Fairmont are rapidly being brought to a successful conclusion, according to a report made by W. E. Smith, who is representing Burbank in the project. Mr. Smith has reported that he is meeting with success in his efforts to secure the agreement of property owners on the north side of the boulevard to donate twenty feet for the benefit of the city.

Several business buildings will have to be moved back between Magnolia and Cypress.

Annexation Plan
A movement has been launched to annex the premises of the Sunset Country club to the city of Burbank, which would add to the city's territory an immense area of mountain and canyon land north of the city.

Chairman Charles H. Kline of the city planning commission has held a conference on the subject with the secretary and general manager of the club, and has prepared the way for further negotiations. The city trustees and the officials of the club will meet at a banquet shortly and will discuss the project from every angle.

One of the difficulties in the way of annexation is said to be the water question, but it is not believed that any insuperable obstacles will be found when the parties concerned work out a basis of transfer that would be fair to each.

Bishop Stevens of Los Angeles, in an address before the members of the Episcopal church, predicted a wonderful growth for Burbank in the next few years, declaring that the city's location, climate and drainage were assets that lend themselves in a remarkable degree to civic growth.

Pupils to Register
Pupils in the grammar schools are asked to register during this week, by Leonard F. Collins, superintendent, who attached great importance to the request that has been sent out by Mark Keppel, Los Angeles county superintendent, asking that all minors be registered in some public elementary school.

This information will be carried on in the Edison school and will not be permitted to interfere with the regular school work.

Mrs. W. S. Walker was the leader at a meeting of the Friendship club that was held at her home on Eighth street and Anzeleone avenue last Thursday evening.

The drive for funds for the Red Cross was staged Saturday, netting a handsome sum for the general work of the organization. Many contributions for the Japanese relief fund were also received.

Alfred G. Maeder, arrested on a series of four different charges arising out of a combination of an automobile and some alleged drinking whisky, which is said to have contained thirty-nine per cent of alcohol, added another tally to the list when he pled his way out of the city jail. He was arrested again by Officers Ackery as he was trying to crank his obstreperous auto and was lodged in the bastille once more.

VALLEY NEWS

LIMA BEAN CROP
WORTH $1,800,000

Average Twenty Sacks From Every Acre Yield to Valley Farmers

The value of the baby lima bean crop in the San Fernando Valley this year has been estimated at $1,800,000, from the 15,000 acres that were planted to this crop this season. The average yield is placed at 15 one hundred pound sacks, making a total yield of 225,000 sacks, which, at an average of $8 per sack, will return $1,800,000 to the farmers.

Thrashing crews are busy all over the valley, and the beans are being shipped out as fast as they can be cleaned and loaded on the cars.

The heaviest yields in the valley are said to come from the fields around Van Nuys where farmers are harvesting from 18 to 20 sacks to the acre, and in some instances the yield has gone as high as 25 sacks.

The demand for baby lima beans has advanced by immense strides since the crop was first introduced into the San Fernando Valley some ten years ago, and today they command high prices in all the markets of the country.

E. D. Brooks, a newcomer from New Hampshire, has bought the Erwin Apartment house, at Erwin street and Sylmar avenue, Van Nuys, from H. P. Goddard, his brother-in-law. The new owner is an experienced hotel man.

Many More Pupils
Enrollment in the Van Nuys schools is setting new records this year, with 605 enrolled in the high school and 885 in the grammar schools. Two additional teachers have been employed.

David Ohrlund of Tarzana is mourning the loss of "Jennie," his Curtiss airplane, which was stolen from his home a few night ago. The missing plane was traced as far as Long Beach, where the thieves stopped to secure a spare propeller, but after that they seem to have vanished into thin air.

The sale of a corner lot at Lankershim boulevard and Riverdale Drive for $20,000 is reported by W. J. Friedman of Lankershim. The lot, which is 161 feet on Lankershim boulevard, is one of the most desirable properties in the town.

The date of the election that is to decide whether Lankershim is to be annexed to Los Angeles has been set for October 31 by the Los Angeles city council, all votes to be cast at one polling place yet to be selected.

The registration books now show 112 voters, but as many of these have moved away, others have transferred, it is impossible to say exactly how many voters are entitled to vote at the election, although expert political workers declare that Lankershim should have at least 1200 voters.

Famous Sculptress Now a Member of Fine Arts Organization

Miss Juanita Causey, sculptress, formerly of Chicago and recently of Los Angeles, has established her home and studio in Sunland and joined the Fine Arts Guild of Tujunga valley. Miss Causey has taken a place on Michigan avenue near the Olive Grove tract. She specializes in garden figures and fountain statuary.

George E. Huse has returned to Sunland after spending the summer at San Diego.

Mrs. O. S. Wright of Fort Dodge, Ia., has been visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Huse.

Hurt in Auto Crash
Joseph Duncan was slightly injured when run down by an automobile on Michigan avenue recently.

A Maxwell of Sunland, and G. T. Lee, 206 North Palm avenue, Tujunga, figured in an accident that resulted in painful injuries to a Mr. Ainsworth and a Mr. Kirk, who gave their addresses as Tujunga.

The accident occurred on Michigan avenue east of Tujunga. According to Lee, he was driving west on Michigan avenue and crashed into the Maxwell car standing on the highway, but showing no tail light.

Walter Jones of Los Angeles, who was near at the time, stated that a third car figured in the crash, forcing Lee into the other car. This car was not damaged and continued on its way.

Ainsworth and Kirk were riding in the machine driven by Lee, according to the report, and were thrown from the car by the force of the collision. They were rushed to the Tujunga Emergency hospital and received treatment by Dr. Bain.

Compares Conversion
To Man's Development

The three stages of conversion were compared yesterday morning at the Central Christian church to the three stages of human development. The morning anthem was "My Task" by E. L. Ashford.

"Why did Jesus perform such miracles?" inquired Rev. C. A. Cole. "If he performed miracles out of sympathy for wounded hearts and lives, why did He not heal all the sick and raise all the dead to life? It would seem that Jesus performed His miracles primarily to teach some great religious truth. He had compassion for a bruised world but beyond physical and mental needs, He saw the need of spiritual truth. He wanted all men to know that sin is represented by sickness, disease and death, that righteousness is represented by health and life.

"More than that, He taught that if He could drive sin from human hearts, He could easily eradicate disease and death.

"The man, who has been years in sin, does not find it easy to give up the past or to give in to God. He sometimes struggles for years before he surrenders his life to Christ."
